Anaïs No. 5

Anaïs draws from the architectural spirit of the Vienna Secession and the motifs found in Koloman Moser's work. Translucent, opaline glass is framed within a deep black base and patinated silver alloy. At its tip, a single glass cabochon anchors the piece — a subtle focal point that recalls the jewel-like inlays of turn-of-the-century decorative arts. Anaïs embodies a studied elegance, merging modernist restraint with artisanal nuance to offer a delicate form shaped by proportion and subtle detail.
