L'eau No. 7

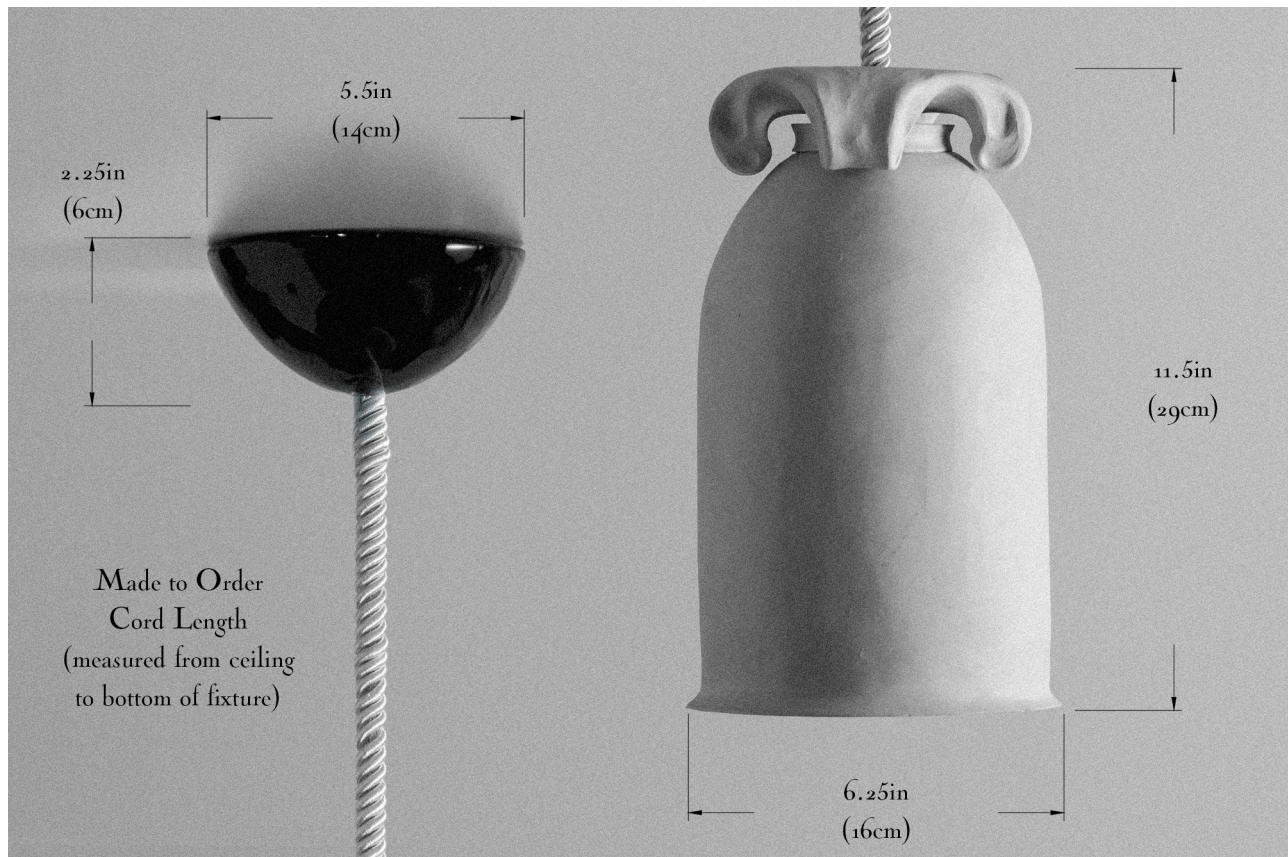

TECHNICAL SPECIFICATIONS

L'eau No. 7

L'eau finds its origins in the fluid contours of late nineteenth-century Art Nouveau, a movement dedicated to forging a direct conversation between art and the natural world. In this series, those once-intricate silhouettes are distilled into precise, contemplative forms, recalling the early twentieth-century modernist quest for clarity and restraint.

Sculpted in clay and fired to enduring stoneware, each piece reflects a considered dialogue between maker and material. While embracing the measured curves and motifs of Art Nouveau, the collection also acknowledges the strong, well-defined shapes that emerged from the Art Deco period. In balancing these influences, L'eau maintains a steadfast focus on simplicity, underscoring a sense of refined, enduring elegance.

The process of shaping complex, repeated forms in ceramic highlights the commitment to craft and the importance of hands-on skill. Offered in both unglazed and glazed finishes, each work affirms a respect for traditional methods — eschewing shortcuts in favor of patient refinement, intuition, and the revival of artisanal practice.
